

COVID 19 Update - July 10, 2020

Hi all-

It's Friday (for some)! We're still awaiting mass testing results but I know the VA is working hard to get those turned around. They've indicated we'll have both B and C block results tomorrow. We'll update the tracking sheet when we get those, but ISCC is poised to make the appropriate moves to separate the asymptomatic positives from those testing negative. The VA also indicated we should have the results from the staff testing event on Monday.

On the staff front, we received word that 3 additional staff members tested positive today (1-ISCC, 1-ISCI, and 1-D4 P&P). HR is conducting contact investigations now.

Unless there's a significant change in status, my next update will be on Monday. I say this a lot, and I mean it: Please take care of yourself. I hope you can find ways to decompress and recharge. Have a great weekend and stay safe!

Thanks-
Josh
