

COVID-19 Update - July 23, 2020

Hi all-

Another brief update this evening.

Incarcerated Population Test Results: As of this evening, we've tested 1916 incarcerated individuals. 138 tests are pending, 1029 tests were negative, 49 are positive with symptoms, 542 are asymptomatic positives, and 158 are no longer active. We're planning to resume mass testing of the incarcerated population next week, and we should have details to share soon.

Staff Testing: Another good day on the staff testing front. Today we had 1 additional staff member test positive from Central Office. All told, that's a total of 87 staff who have tested positive for COVID-19. 49 of those have been cleared to return to work. We should have the results from the first round of ISCI staff testing soon. The next round of ISCI staff testing will take place next Tuesday.

That's it for this evening. More than one of you have pointed out that my updates can run a little long on occasion. When I drop a long one again, and it's only a matter of time, please remember this two-day stretch.

As always, thanks for all you're doing! Stay safe, and take care of yourself.

Thanks-

Josh
