* Includes every capital case since Idaho's new statute was enacted in 1977. There are some cases from the late 70's listed in the Reporters, but they are all based upon a death penalty statute that either permitted the imposition of the death penalty in any first-degree murder case (pre-Furman in 1972), or imposition of the death penalty in all first-degree murder cases (mandatory death penalty abolished by the Supreme Court in Woodson in 1976); those cases are not listed on this chart. This list comprises the post-Furman/Woodson cases from Idaho.
